The Special Representative of the Secretary General in Sierra Leone, Ambassador Daudi Ngelautwa Mwakawago today decorated 821 officers and soldiers of the seventh Zambian battalion (ZAMBATT 7) with United Nations peace medal of the United Nations at a brief but colorful regimental ceremony at Tongo Fields in the eastern district of Kenema.

Speaking at the ceremony which is held for peacekeepers who complete 90 days unblemished, Ambassador Mwakawago expressed delight for being a part of the medal ceremony and reminded the peace keepers that “the UN medal award is in recognition of the excellent performance of Zambian troops in peace keeping operation in Sierra Leone”. Commending the efforts of the peacekeepers, Ambassador Mwakawago noted that their “meritorious medal is another milestone towards achieving peace in Sierra Leone”. He paid glowing tribute to the peacekeepers, urging them not to relent in their efforts and good work. The SRSG later expressed his condolence to the entire Zambian contingent on the recent passing away of one of their female soldiers, Sergeant Megani Forry who died of natural causes.
